

Affordability is the issue

Connie's Story

A huge part of finding accessible housing is being able to afford it. At this point I can't even consider accessibility. I can only consider what I can afford on benefits. When you are on benefits, this is the issue. I give up basic necessities for my rent. We are keeping people with disabilities in poverty. I didn't choose this—I would prefer to work.